1. At the end of February 1947, the sole guided missile launching ramp at Kolberger Deep (MO4) was dismantled. The parts were shipped from the Papenhagen railroad station to Leba (H32). It is not known whether or not the ramp has been set up again at Leba. The machinery of two newly constructed work halls, consisting of lathes and drilling machines, were also dismantled.
2. Approximately twenty-five rocket projectiles (undescribed) remain in the underground storage dump, as well as a great quantity of explosives, but a number of stick-shaped incendiary bombs have been shipped out and sent to unknown destinations.
3. The Kolberger Deep camp has no number and [] that it is not a normal PW enclosure, since all PWs there were specially selected for the work.
